PICNIC TRIP BY GLENDALE ELKS

MEMBERS OF LOCAL LODGE ON CHARITY MISSION; OUTING AND LUNCH ENJOYED

TAKE MOVIE SCENES

PLAY IS PRESENTED IN WHICH WELL KNOWN PEOPLE ARE LEADING CHARACTERS

Early yesterday morning a party of 100 local Elks and their families motored from Glendale to Newhall on a charity mission, but their wishes to help out a destitute couple, who were living in a hovel along the railroad tracks, by building them a home, were scorned. A site had been secured two blocks from the center of Newhall, right on the highway. But the man, who is suffering from asthma and is going blind, and his wife, afflicted with tuberculosis, refused to move from their old location, where, of course, it was impossible to build a house.

Architects, carpenters, painters, plumbers, many willing helpers, in fact, even a "movie" camera to film scenes of activity during the day, and an Evening News reporter to let people in general know of the happy time, were present.

Fidelity Ranch Is Visited

Last summer a like number of Elks from Glendale set forth on a charity mission to help a lone woman who was homesteading in Bouquet Canyon. A comfortable little home was built for her and finished, even to painting the house, which was labeled "Fidelity Ranch," and planting geraniums around it. It was with shouts of glee from the children and with expressions of general approval that the suggestion was made that they again visit this lady yesterday. Donations of wearing apparel, flour, bread and other foodstuffs were gratefully received by her.

It was about noon when the party reached her ranch and anxious queries of "When do we eat?" were heard. So, an impromptu picnic was held opposite a spring of water about two miles up the road from Fidelity Ranch. Joe Fortunato, chef for this occasion was indeed popular. Chris Orff was the official coffee maker.

Motion Picture Is Made

During the serving of lunch motion picture scenes were shot. The feature picture of the day was taken in the afternoon. The ingenious director, to whose efforts the success of the filming of the pictures was due, was H. F. MacPherson, who was assisted by Harry H. Cooper as camera man. The participants in this picture were four well-known members of B. P. O. E. No. 1289, John Fanset, S. Berman, James Apffel and

SUBMITS REPORT

MRS. C. E. HUTCHINSON TELLS PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL OF WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, attended the meeting of the Presidents' Council of the Los Angeles district of the federated state clubs held in Los Angeles last week.

She was much complimented on her report, the year's work of the Tuesday Afternoon club comparing most favorably with that of other clubs of the district.

A strong club in each district was assigned, several months ago, to make an Americanization map for each district in the state. The section assigned to the Tuesday Afternoon club is a large one, including Glendale, Eagle Rock, Burbank, La Canada and La Crescenta. Mrs. Hutchinson appointed Mrs. Stephen Packer to undertake the work of making this Americanization map.

This is an important work and one that entails a great amount of labor. It requires the listing of all foreigners, information as to their nationality, occupation, families, whether they maintain any sort of home life, and other data that might be illuminating and helpful in the work of helping the foreigner to find his niche in the scheme of American life.

Mrs. Hutchinson's report to the council of the work done so far by the club along this line was an exceptional one and the Tuesday Afternoon club is being congratulated on what it has accomplished.

It is planned to have an exhibit of arts and crafts work done by foreigners of the district, in order to encourage and help them.

SEEKING CHANGE IN PRIMARY LAW

FIGHT IS EXPECTED

SPONSOR FOR FIRST LAW TO LEAD OPPOSITION, BELIEF BEING EXPRESSED

Dispatches from Sacramento state that Assemblyman John Robert White of Glendale, joined by Lee of Pomona and Smith of Santa Barbara, is proposing an amendment to the primary law that would prohibit candidates, except those for judicial or local offices, from seeking nomination on any ticket other than that of the party with which they were affiliated thirty-five days before the primary election.

Further, the bill provides that candidates may accept the nomination of a party with which they are not affiliated if such nomination is obtained through a write-in campaign at the primary election.

A similar measure was introduced in the last legislature by Assemblyman White, but was defeated. Dispatches from Sacramento state that this session White has been given assurance that the measure will go through the assembly and, perhaps, will be passed by the senate.

Favored by Ninth District

"The purpose of the measure," said Assemblyman White, "is to restore party responsibility in accordance with the vote of the people on a referendum proposition several elections back. This expression of the people has been ignored by the legislature thus far."

It is stated that the proposed amendment was indorsed by the conference of Republicans held in Pasadena recently at which delegates from all parts of the ninth district, which includes Glendale, met to select a candidate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman-elect Van de Water.

No reference to the primary law was made by Governor Stephens in his message and Lieutenant-Governor Young, who drafted the original measure in 1913 is expected to show opposition to White's bill and lead a fight against it.

During the 1919 session an amendment was accepted to authorize state or county party central committees to name a candidate if an aspirant for office is disqualified through the provision of the law prohibiting an office seeker from accepting the nomination of any party unless he has also obtained the nomination of the party with which he is affiliated.

KILLED IN CRASH

ERNEST F. CROTHERS IS DEAD AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT EARLY SATURDAY NIGHT

Ernest F. Crothers, aged 19, who lived with his widowed mother on her ranch near Roscoe, was killed early Saturday evening in a motorcycle smashup whose details seem obscure and mysterious. A younger cousin who was with him was badly injured. His skull may be fractured.

The boys started for Burbank on their motorcycles a little after eight o'clock. The younger boy turned back to the ranch to get his overcoat, and then hurried back to overtake his cousin. A little later automobiles passing along the San Fernando road found the two boys lying beside their smashed-up machines on the road, both unconscious.

It is not known whether the younger boy ran up behind young Crothers and collided with him, or whether an automobile knocked Crothers over and his cousin, coming up behind, was upset by the wreck. The younger boy is now conscious, but his mind is a blank so far as what happened after he started back with his coat is concerned. It is said that Crothers' cousin had no light on his machine.

The body of young Crothers is at the L. G. Scovern undertaking establishment. An inquest will be held on Wednesday.

DECREASE IN ARRESTS RECORD

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10—Police dashed to the scene and said "you're arrested" just 9879 fewer times last year than they did the year preceding, in San Francisco.

In other words, there were 13,797 arrests in 1920 and 23,676 in 1919, according to the annual report of the police department.

THIS CITY GETS MORE PUBLICITY

WORKERS CHOSEN

PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR GREAT GATHERING TO BE HELD ON JUNE 25-29

The January issue of The California Endeavorer announces to California young people that the next State C. E. convention is to be held in Glendale, June 25-29, 1921.

A new plan is being used this year by urging "Pre-registration" for the Glendale convention by Christian Endeavorers all over the state. Under this plan a person sending in advance registration is assured of getting the convention program, and badge even though at the last minute he is detained from attending this great gathering of young people.

Paul C. Brown, state field secretary for the California state C. E. Union, attended the last local committee meeting. He said among other remarks that he believed the local committee are a full three months in advance of most previous convention city committees in preparation for past state conventions. Mr. Brown left this last week for Detroit, Mich., to attend a conference of field secretaries and expects to spend a part of his time while in the east in securing special speakers for the Glendale convention.

Appointments Are Made

Miss Nancy St. Clair has been appointed secretary of the local committee, W. G. Boyd chairman of the halls committee, Fred Hoffman of pages and guides; J. A. Newton for publicity; Miss Carol Duncan for reception; Assistant Secretary, Miss Louise Mock; members at large, Miss Nellie Warner, Ralph Isbell and George Higby.

The state organization's paper devotes a good bit of its first page to the coming convention and the name of Glendale figures prominently in the head and the body of the article. The story in part is as follows:

"Glendale invites the state convention to meet with them in 1921 The Los Angeles meeting of the state executive committee accepted the invitation and set the dates, June 25-29.

"There, that is the information of a great host of Endeavorers over the state have been waiting for for some time. It all came about quite naturally and came to a head much quicker than anyone might have supposed was possible. When Ralph Isbell, president of Los Angeles County, calmly announced at C. E. headquarters in Los Angeles, one night, that Los Angeles county was ready to take the convention, and ask one of her many cities to undertake the job of entertaining it, there was quite a ruffle of surprise on the placid workers of Endeavordom.

Invitation From Glendale

"But before many were aware of it, he had appointed a committee from his executive to confer with the state convention committee, and the joint committee made a trip to Glendale and found the folks out here

DOUBLE SERVICE

WEDDING CEREMONY AND THEN BAPTISM PERFORMED BY DR. CLYDE M. CRIST

Dr. Clyde M. Crist, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated yesterday at a double service as beautiful as it was unique.

Arthur P. Ohrmund and Fern Elledge Hopewell, of Pasadena, chose Dr. Crist as the clergyman to officiate at their wedding because he had formerly been Miss Hopewell's pastor in Pasadena. Yesterday was the day set for the ceremony, and the happy couple, attended by Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Ohrmund, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, appeared at the Glendale Methodist church for the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Elledge, father and mother of the bride, were members of the bridal party.

Dr. Crist read the marriage ceremony at 3 o'clock, and then Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ohrmund surprised him by saying that they, too, had a ceremony they wished him to perform—and presented their baby for baptism, which sacred rite was duly performed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Ohrmund are popular young people in Pasadena, where they will make their home.

COUNTY SESSION IS LARGE EVENT

ABOUT 350 RESERVATIONS FOR GATHERING OF Y. M. C. A. ANNOUNCED TONIGHT

FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

MOST OF THOSE WHO WILL BE AT WORKERS' MEETING ARE GLENDALE RESIDENTS

William McRae, 634 North Kenwood street, who has charge of the County Y. M. C. A. work in California, in discussing work with boys with a representative of The Evening News today, said:

Rex C. Kelley, our Los Angeles county secretary for this district, told me this morning that reservations for the annual county convention and dinner to be held tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church numbers 350. A large percentage of these reservations are for Glendale people, which is naturally very gratifying to me, for I have looked forward from year to year to the time when C. A. influence might be felt by the boys of our community. So large a turnout of Glendale people shows that the work is coming to be understood and is being firmly established.

"The county work does not consider buildings necessary to a vital work among boys. The county organization believes rather in the enlisting and training of many volunteer leaders who will take charge of a boys' club or group, meeting with them weekly and associating himself with the boys in their camping trips, hikes and other boyish interests.

Contact with Fine Character

"To my way of thinking, there is no better influence for a boy than the frequent contact with a man of fine character and high ideals. There is much in the saying, 'Character is caught, not taught.'

"Mindful of the fact that the greatest chance to mold the character of a boy is in the home, and that this opportunity, moreover, is one in which the father may and should have a very great part, we of the Y. M. C. A. do all we can to encourage fathers to live with their boys, to play with them, take an interest in their interests. To this end we are asking the fathers of Glendale to hear Dr. Winfield S. Hall of Chicago

RESIDENT OF GLENDALE FOR PAST EIGHT YEARS IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Samuel H. Fish passed out of this life yesterday afternoon at his home, 127 North Kenwood street.

Mr. Fish and his wife have lived in Glendale for the past eight years and have endeared themselves to a wide circle of friends here, who mourn the passing of a kindly gentleman and who sympathize deeply with his wife in her bereavement, which seems particularly sad because it leaves her all alone, there being no other relatives in this part of the country.

Mr. Fish was for forty-two years a resident of Hinsdale and Chicago. He was a director of the Hinsdale State bank, and was for twenty-four years the Chicago agent of O. J. Stough, of San Diego. Mr. Fish was one of the early settlers of Chicago. He lived there before the Chicago fire, and witnessed the development of the city, which grew afterwards from a village to a great metropolis.

He belonged to the Hinsdale club, and at various times was a member of the city council of that city. In Hinsdale he affiliated with the Hinsdale Union church, and joined the First Methodist church in Glendale.

Besides his wife, Mr. Fish is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary J. Pierce, of Hartford, Conn.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow from the chapel of the Jewel City Undertaking establishment, with Dr. C. M. Crist officiating. The body will be laid to rest in Forest Lawn cemetery.

WANT HALF MILLION DOLLARS

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10—A half million dollars will be asked by the California State Irrigation association in appropriations by the state legislature during the present session, according to the association's announced plan.

The money will be asked to finance a survey of the so-called Marshall Plan for the construction of two huge irrigation canals to irrigate the entire state.

MULTI-MILLIONAIRE DIES IN ACCIDENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Raymond C. Thorne, multi-millionaire clubman of Chicago and Los Angeles, was killed early today in an automobile accident here.

A new roadster in which Thorne was driving to his winter residence in Beverly Hills skidded on the wet pavement and overturned in Wilshire boulevard.

He died in the arms of men who extricated him from beneath the wrecked car.

Thorne, who was 33, was part owner of Montgomery-Ward & Co., Chicago mail order house.

The accident occurred shortly after midnight. Thorne apparently was driving at a high rate of speed when the light car careened and rolled over a slight embankment.

He was unconscious and dying for several hours until daybreak before a passing motorist found him. His widow is in Chicago.

STAGE HOLD-UP IN REAL WILD WEST WAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Two swarthy cowboys staged a hold-up in real wild west fashion at daybreak today in the heart of the business district here. Riding up to the Golden Gate restaurant on horses, they hitched their mounts to a telephone pole and, with revolvers drawn, confronted Lew Pak Hang, a waiter. The frightened Chinese retreated and was knocked unconscious. Emptying the cash register of $140, the robbers, dressed like cow punchers, leaped astride their ponies and galloped away.

IRISH FORCES CONTINUE TO MAKE WAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—"Rebel" activities, possibly reaching the importance of extensive skirmishes with crown forces north and west of Dublin, were reported here today. The fighting, according to vague reports, extended at intervals over an area of twenty miles. It was believed the Sinn Fein army may have planned the attacks in an effort to cut transportation lines.

OPPOSITION TO INAUGURAL PLANS HALT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A resolution denying any further appropriations for the expenses of the Harding inauguration and notifying the inaugural committees that no government building will be turned over to them for a ball was introduced today by Senator Borah, who attempted to have it adopted at once. Objection by Senator Smoot prevented this, however.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROB POSTOFFICE AND GENERAL STORE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ORGANIZATION'S FINANCIAL PLAN

SEEK RESERVE ARMY

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE MEETS AND ARRANGES METHODS TO FINANCE WORK

An important step in the campaign to rebuild the Glendale Chamber of Commerce was taken by the Citizens' Campaign Committee at its meeting today. It was the adoption of the form of pledges to be signed by those who will be solicited in the campaign. Incidentally, this meant the determining of the basic financial plan on which the new organization will rely for the sinews of war.

Several plans were discussed by the committee, but opinion was finally unanimous in approving the standard plan in vogue in Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Pedro, San Diego, Riverside, Fresno, and in more than 85 per cent of the foremost organizations of the country.

The committee went a step further, however, adopting what will undoubtedly be called, hereafter, the "Glendale plan." This plan supplements the standard plan in operation in the above cities, by adding the twelve hour plan originated by Campaign Director James O. Stevenson.

Plan Twelve Hour Reserves

As finally approved, the Glendale plan provides for active membership in the Chamber of Commerce at annual dues of $25 a year, with the larger interests subscribing for plural memberships according to their ability and interest. This is the Standard plan. All who do not wish to become active members of the chamber—those whose interest in Glendale is only that of a resident or a salaried employe of some business concern—may enroll themselves as twelve hour reserves of the chamber, contributing from year to year the equivalent of twelve hours of their earning time, or a like proportion of their income, and concerning themselves with the work of the chamber only in respect to civic, social and other general problems that affect all the people.

In future, therefore, the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, the Citizens' Committee predicts, will have not only a large active membership on which to rely for service in carrying out important projects in the interest of a Greater Glendale, but an even larger reserve membership that will be on call when overwhelming force of public opinion is needed.

Public Meeting on Wednesday

A campaign in San Fernando, conducted by Mr. Stevenson along these lines recently, resulted in a membership of 275 for the Chamber of Commerce, with a reserve force of approximately 400. And though San Fernando has only 3000 population, with a large percentage of Mexicans, the Chamber of Commerce has an annual income of approximately $9000 a year, and a trained secretary has been engaged to devote his entire time to working for the Gateway City and its adjacent territory.

A more complete explanation of the "Glendale plan" will be made at the meeting Wednesday in the Hudson garage, 228 S. Brand Blvd., to which all are invited.

FLOAT MEETING

COMMITTEE TO MEET TONIGHT AND CONSIDER DEFICIT OF ABOUT $450 REMAINING

R. F. Kitterman, chairman of the committee having charge of Glendale's float in the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena on New Year's day, has called a meeting of the committee for 7 o'clock at the city hall tonight to consider the deficit of about $450 yet to be cleared up.

A number of subscribers to the fund are doubling their subscriptions and, too, some people who did not subscribe to the original fund are sending checks to The Evening News to be credited to the fund.

The committee feels that the people of Glendale will not long allow the deficit to hang over the prize-winning float and that the checks will come in speedily, so that a complete financial report may be submitted.

GETTING RICH IN LITERATURE

One has only to read the current periodicals to get the idea that very little in the form of education or special fitness is necessary to make a success in literature, especially in short story writing or the production of scenarios.

The large number of so-called schools and individuals who are engaged in the business of teaching how to write for the literary market would indicate that there are plenty of folks gullible enough to take the advertisers at their word.

Just enough persons succeed in story writing to make it easy for many others to be deceived into the belief that they need only take a few lessons by mail in order to be able to write stories that will set the editors of the magazines hot on their trail for new masterpieces.

The same scheme is adopted in inducing persans to submit musical compositions, the authors of which are touted as coming compositors of unquestioned ability and reputation—all for the purpose of getting a fat fee for placing the musical efforts on the "market."

It usually is the case that persons who advertise to help others to fame and fortune through short story writing have a book to sell, or a series of lessons at a stiff price, all guaranteed to make editors of magazines and periodicals open their publications to their students' efforts.

Reading the advertisements that appear in many publications, one would think that the only requisite to becoming successful in writing, in newspaper correspondence, in cartoon work, or almost any other activity that is supposed to require special fitness, is to take a few lessons from the advertisers. Disappointment too often follows efforts to gain fame in this manner.

Mark Francy, 136 North Kenwood street, was a member of a party of young people who enjoyed a week-end hiking trip in the mountains.

Mrs. R. T. Burr and family, 1123 Campbell street, spent Sunday in Alhambra visiting Mrs. Winterbottom, who is Mrs. Burr's sister.

Geo. B. Woodberry reported to the police that the house on his bee ranch on Verdugo Canyon road was broken into recently and a Stevens magazine rifle and case stolen.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Finley of 434 West Doran street entertained as their Sunday guests Professor Millican and wife of Los Angeles. Mrs. Millican is Mr. Finley's niece.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Russell, 322 Riverdale drive, entertained at tea yesterday evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stamps and daughters Barbara and Doris of 436 West Colorado street.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Horlock, 1006 East Wilson avenue, had as callers last week Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Franz of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Eames of Montebello, California.

Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, 110 Olive street, who has been confined to her home for the past three weeks, is very much improved and hopes to be out soon. Mrs. Smart is president of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Edgar Lloyd Smith of 504 Fairmont avenue, underwent a very serious major operation at the California hospital, Los Angeles, last Friday. She came through it very successfully and is mending rapidly.

Burt Richardson ,525 South Central avenue, arrived New Year's day from New York City. Paul Richardson, who spent the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Ella Richardson, has returned to Stanford university.

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shultz, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Shultz of Glendale, and Dr. Edward Shultz of Los Angeles were a group of congenial friends who enjoyed a motor trip Saturday.

E. C. Ball took out a permit Saturday for a 5-room residence and a garage, at 421 West Harvard, to cost $2800; W. E. Hilton secured one for a 3-room residence at 456 Milford, the estimated cost of which is $1000.

Jas. Bennett of 530 West Colorado, while driving south on Brand boulevard Saturday, collided with H. L. Anderson's truck as it backed out from 109½ South Brand. His radiator was damaged and windshield and headlight broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gardner, 1259 Boynton street, entertained with a turkey dinner yesterday in celebration of Mr. Gardner's birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Augustin, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Angelica and son Bobby, Charles Gardner and Howard Gardner.

Miss Grace Shropshire, who has been visiting an aunt in Lawrence, Kansas, for a year past, recently took a civil service examination for a position in Washington, D. C., and won out, but she is undecided as to whether or no she will go to the nation's capital to accept the situation.

Miss Eva Daniels attended the meeting of the Press chairmen of the First District, Southern California Club Press association on Saturday morning in Los Angeles. Miss Pearl Rall, instructor of the class, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Myra Nye was one of the speakers.

Morehouse, 1006 East Lomita avenue; G. T. Dair, 815 East Elk avenue; T. A. McMurtrie, corner Milford and San Fernando road.

Mrs. Mary E. Shropshire of 326 East Colorado recently received a letter from her daughter Birdie, who is in Cincinnati, stating that she spent Christmas with her brother Charlie and family of Cairo, Illinois. Though the two cities are but a little over 200 miles apart, it took her nearly 24 hours to make the trip, so great was the travel at that time.

Stanley Frentz, 446 West Colorado boulevard, arrived home Saturday evening from San Francisco, where he and his first and only grandson, William Stanley Crawford, have been holding a several weeks' get-acquainted meeting. William Stanley Crawford arrived on this planet but six or seven short weeks ago and has learned but little of even one of the various languages spoken by its inhabitants—yet, strange to relate, he and his grandfather seem to understand each other perfectly. Mr. Frentz attributes this state of affairs to the fact that William Stanley Crawford is really a wonderful baby, different from all other babies. bies.

SALMON WORSTED EAGLE

From Seattle, comes the story of a thrilling fight between a bald eagle and a salmon. The eagle was flying near the surface of the water, when a salmon, which the crew of the schooner Roosevelt estimated must have weighed twenty pounds, leaped out. The eagle drove its talons into the salmon's back, and the fish, diving, carried the eagle under water. Bird and fish rose twice and went down again; then the eagle gave up, completely exhausted, and lay on the surface of the water until the crew of the Roosevelt rescued it.

PERSONALS

Frank L. Wenning, who is connected with the Earl C. Anthony motor car company of Los Angeles, was a visitor in Glendale yesterday and accompanied the Elks to Bouquet canyon. Mr. Wenning visited Glendale at the time of the Elks' convention in 1915 and is astonished at the remarkable growth of the city since that time. He is a member of Wapakoneta, Ohio, B. P. O. E. lodge No. 1170.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gannon, of 318 West Colorado boulevard, were hosts yesterday to a large party of old Iowa friends, among them Dr. and Mrs. Phillips, of Victor, Iowa, who have just come to the Southland for a visit to their son in Los Angeles. Dr. and Mrs. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and family were other Iowa tourists who were guests yesterday in the Gannon home, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, former Iowans, now located in Los Angeles. The Gannon family came from Victor, Iowa, last July and bought a home in Glendale the day after their arrival. They seem to be a magnet that draws many Iowa people to Glendale, and as they are persistent boosters for the city of their adoption, no doubt they will induce many of their "back East" friends to locate here.

COUNTY SESSION

MANY RESERVATIONS ARE MADE FOR Y. M. C. A. GATHERING ON TUESDAY NIGHT

on the evening of January 25.

"There is no greater authority in the country on the physical life of the boy than Dr. Hall. He has given up his work as Dean of the School of Medicine of Northwestern University to devote his whole time to lecturing on boy life. He has many things to say that will help fathers in the training of their boys.

"Under the auspices of the county department of the Y. M. C. A., Dr. Hall will spend one month visiting twelve of our original counties. He will speak to both boys and girls in at least fifty high schools, as well as to parents, teachers and others interested in boys and girls."

HORSESHOE CLUB

BIG CROWD IS PRESENT AND WITNESSES LOCAL TEAMS PITCH FIFTY GAMES

The grounds of the Glendale Horseshoe club were crowded Saturday afternoon, there being fully 250 spectators present, the attraction being a contest between teams made up from the local membership. They were dubbed the Porter Outlaws and the Denney Pirates. Fifty games were played and the Outlaws won thirty-three of them, with 860 points and 212 ringers. The pirates won seventeen games with 770 points and 169 ringers.

Pettit made the high score on ringers, forty-five in ten games. Glen Porter made twenty-seven in five games. Shannon made high score in points, securing 114. Sauter was second with 112.

While no records were broken, it was a glorious scrap and the large attendance showed increased interest in the game. A new game has been added to the attractions, called "Higley-Wigley." It can be played by two or four persons.

DEAD MAN TO GET PAPER

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 8—A Topeka newspaper will be delivered every day for the next twenty years at the grave of Sam Radges, a local publisher of city directories, who died here yesterday.

Before he died Radges took out a twenty-year paid subscription to the paper and requested that it be delivered to him at the cemetery. He was buried today in a vault that he erected himself nearly ten years ago in anticipation of death. An electric light which hangs inside the vault is to burn forever.

VAUDEVILLE FEATURES

Some special vaudeville features have been planned in connection with the benefit performance to be given at the Palace Grand theatre January 13 and 14 for the Masonic Temple building fund. Artists who have offered their services for the occasion include Professor Barcella DeArman, a past master in the art of legerdemain; George Blix and Jack Rockwell, the two black face artists who won such popular approval at the Tuesday Afternoon Club vaudeville; Miss Lois Naudain, fancy dancing, and Margot Buxton, fancy dancing. Charles Ray in "Peaceful Valley," will be the moving picture feature.

RELIEF WORK TO BE SUBJECT

Near East Relief is a theme that is engaging the attention of many churches, clubs and other organizations.

One of the features of tomorrow's session of the Tuesday Afternoon club will be an address by Mr. Sims, associate secretary of the Near East Relief, who will speak of conditions in the stricken countries and on the work that is being done to help their destitute inhabitants.

GLENDALE CAMERAMAN GETS SOME EXCELLENT PICTURES IN INTERIOR ALASKA

Ralph Staub, motion picture cameraman, resident of Glendale, who is now on his way home from Alaska, where he went to take scenes of the interior, has forwarded The Evening News a copy of The Fairbanks Daily News-Miner, which contains, under a Nenana date line, the following account:

"Ralph Staub, moving picture cameraman who came to Interior Alaska for the setting for a hunting story of the northland, returned to Nenana last night from a stay of several months in the Mt. McKinley district, where he obtained many thousand feet of film which will prove valuable to the territory as advertising matter as well as an important part of the story for which the pictures were taken.

"Mr. Staub says that he was particularly fortunate in getting some good views of America's highest mountain. He and his companions, Mike Kelly and Harry Lucky, who went along as guides, and members of the cast, climbed a mountain close to the base of Mt. McKinley and reached an elevation of considerably over 5000 ft., where they obtained an unobstructed view of the great snow-capped peaks which form McKinley mountain. They were not over fifteen or twenty miles distant from the peaks, in an air line and the photographing was done under exceptionally favorable weather conditions.

Pictures of Wild Game

"Mr. Staub also obtained some excellent pictures of wild game, including mountain sheep, at close range and in action on the mountain sides, bears of all ages and other animals which will prove very interesting to the thousands of outsiders who will have the opportunity soon to enjoy the completed picture which will consist of about five reels, all taken in interior Alaska.

"The views will be assembled in a studio in Los Angeles as soon as Mr. Staub arrives there, and it is his intention to have some very attractive titles. The picture will also then be named.

"Mr. Staub says that both of his assistants have no mean ability as movie actors. So well did they fit into the story that some of the scenes were filmed without even a rehearsal. They performed in a manner that would have done credit to professionals.

"Armed" Only with Camera

"On one of the expeditions to the top of the mountain near the base of McKinley, the cameramen were engaged in 'taking' a large mother grizzly bear and her two cubs when the maternal bruin took it into her head to put a stop to the operation. She made a rush at Staub and Kelly, who were armed only with their camera, and only by the narrowest margin did they escape death. The bear first made for Staub and then took a sudden notion to quit the chase and left for parts unknown. Kelly stumbled and fell when the bear was close to him and would have been an easy mouthful had the pursuit continued. Mr. Staub regrets that he was forced to leave his camera when the chase began for he believes that the best part of the exciting scene was left out.

"Mr. Staub was accompanied to town by Mike Kelly, but Lucky remained at the end of the trail. The cameramen will go to Fairbanks tomorrow and after a short stay there will head for the States by way of Broad Pass, it being their intention to take a few pictures of the government railroad on their way to the coast. Kelly will go to the States also."

ESTIMATES ON STATE BUDGET

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10—Governor Stephens was today presented with a report from the budget board in which it is stated that the cost of operating the state government and its established activities for the biennium beginning July 1, 1921, is estimated at $81,387,692.51. The report shows an estimated revenue deficiency of about $14,000,000.

BEGINNING OF RETRENCHMENT

Cuts which the house appropriations committees have made in the sundry civil and postoffice bills foreshadow fulfillment of promises of retrenchment that is indispensable to the country's welfare. Spectacular as are the reductions made in departmental estimates of what is needed, the significant feature of the sundry civil bill report is that the amount which the committee recommends is a great many millions less than the aggregate granted last year. Constant growth and development of the postoffice department, together with increase of fixed charges over which congress has no control, call for almost $70,000,000 more for the service next year than this, but the care with which the estimates have been scrutinized appears in the fact that the committee has reduced the amount requested by almost $11,500,000.

A businesslike procedure by the committee was the elimination of $147,000,000 from the sundry civil bill, the stupendous sum having been sought for the shipping board. In the judgment of the committee this organization should "paddle its own canoe" and supply its needs out of income from its operations. The people will indorse the decision. The scandalous waste and extravagance that have characterized the conduct of this service, as disclosed in the recent investigation, has convinced the public that if the enterprise cannot be self-sustaining it should be wound up. Another item whose elision appears to have been dictated by wisdom was the $300,000 which the department of justice sought for enforcement of the prohibition act. The results obtained under Attorney General Palmer's administration have not impressed the people. Energy more than money appears to be the need of this department.

Many a man spends his time building aircastles when he should be patching the roof of his dwelling.

JAPANESE SELL INFERIOR TREES, IS CHARGE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 10.—Japanese agriculturalists are flooding the San Joaquin valley with a poor grade of fruit trees, Assemblyman Cleveland of Watsonville charged here today. EDITORIAL COMMENT

PROBLEMS OF TAXATION

The problems involved in any system of taxation give considerable concern to the persons authorized to raise revenue for public expenses, and usually they cause annoyance to the persons who are expected to provide the money.

Taxes never have been popular, and they are usually paid under mental reservations, if not protests, of a more or less degree. The candidate for office who wants to be received with some approval by the voters devises plans for the reduction of taxes.

Congress is facing the necessity of doing something in the way of tax revision, but just what can be accomplished along that line is plainly a matter of speculation for the present. Only preliminary work is expected at the short session, but the special session will be forced to take up the problem in earnest.

Business complains that it has been operating under serious handicaps during and since the war by taxes which have been levied

It might help some for congress to adopt a rule that no new by many for discouraging persons with money from making investments needed to keep industry and business in a healthy condition.

The best that congress can hope to do for some years, in the opinion of federal treasury experts, is to readjust the tax schedules, for it is held that there can be no positive reduction in the amount of taxes required by the government for some years. The only hope of some citizens is that they may obtain relief at the expense of others, who will be asked to assume the burden.

In his autobiography Benjamin Franklin tells how he kept books on himself. He had a ledger, at the top of each page of which he wrote one of the several virtues he regarded as fundamental for right living. One page he devoted to frugality, another to temperance, a third to industry, a fourth to silence, and so on.

At the end of each day he examined himself and if he had failed in any of these virtues he gave himself a black mark on the ledger. In this way he kept himself informed as to the weak spots of his makeup, and devoted himself constantly to improving them. Thus he kept the record in the ledger balanced.

To Ben Franklin living was the most important of all businesses. He was more concerned in showing gains and stopping losses in his living business than in his printing business.

Franklin's bookkeeping system was practical application of the injunction, "Know thyself." Self-knowledge is the fundamental of the living business. Most of us are too busy with other businesses to look after this most important of all business. It generally runs by itself. That's why there are so many failures in that business.

DISCUSS PREVENTION VS. CURE

In his annual report Surgeon General Cummings dwells on the menace to the United States from epidemic diseases now prevalent in Eastern Europe. That we have thus far escaped has been due to the vigilance exercised in inspecting vessels and personnel prior to their departure from European ports bound for the United States.

Even with every precaution taken there have been instances of typhus breaking out on ships destined for our ports. However, appropriate treatment and rigid quarantine have prevented the entrance of the disease to our shores. He points out that with the resumption of commerce the danger of a spread of the disease is increased greatly.

While typhus, cholera and other virulent diseases made ravages during the war the bar to travel confined them to somewhat restricted areas. The most careful inspection is now demanded as a preventive. This was foreseen and medical officers representing the health service were sent to Europe and are now located at almost every port. The situation is an illustration of the value of prevention.

While there is no probability that typhus would have a wide spread, even should it gain entrance to this land, it might work local havoc should it be introduced into the tenement sections of our larger cities. It is but an act of prudence to prevent the germs of the disease leaving Europe rather than to seek to conquer them after reaching here.

There will never be any satisfactory concert of the powers as long as each one insists on being the soloist.

As long as a man is not getting the worst of the fight he does not appeal to the morality of justice.

VETERAN DETECTIVE RETIRES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10—Edward Wren, detective, who has served on the San Francisco police force since the days of the famous Chief of Police Lees, has been placed on the pension list by the police commissioners.

Wren figured in many important cases in years gone by, including the Theo. Durant murder case, the Dr. Grant murder mystery and the cleaning out of the "Nolan gang" and the "Shea gang" which terrorized parts of the city at various times.

NAMED AS ALASKAN FORESTER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10—Charles H. Flory, for two years superintendent of the Alaska National Forests, has been appointed the first District Forester of the newly-elected Alaska forest district.

Alaska, which has been under the north Pacific forest district, was recently created an independent forest district by Secretary of Agriculture Meredith largely on account of its increasing importance as a future source of paper pulp material. Recently the pulp resources of Alaska have been drawing much attention.

LEAVE ON TRIP TO MEXICO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10—Approximately 100 San Francisco and northern California business men have left San Francisco en route to Mexico City on a trade and friendship promotion excursion.

The trip was arranged by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and its main purpose was announced as being to cement closer relations, both in business and socially, between the business communities of the United States and Mexico.

Many a man is more interested in his own thirst than in the prediction that Niagara will be dry in a hundred years.

A luncheon was given for the Lineberger committeemen from all parts of the district at noon, it being served in the Union League club.

TRANSMIT POWER BY WATER

One of the unique inventions of the war which since has been utilized by industry is the wave generator. This invention in its simplest form, is a tube filled with water, through which power waves are transmitted by a piston. Attached to mechanical devices, it operates rock drills, hammers, etc.

In grasping the principle of the wave generator one should recall the innocent pastime of transmitting energy through three coins which are laid in a row upon the table. By striking the first coin, the coin on the far end of the row is detached from its position, although the middle coin is not moved. So in the wave generator the piston strikes the column of water, the energy passes through the water and is transmitted to the mechanical appliance at the other end of the tube. This force wave travels at the same rate that sound travels through water, 4809 feet a second—and there is no limit to the amount of power which can be transmitted in this fashion. Rigid pipes are used for the main tube of the wave generator and power can be transmitted over a long distance, while the main pipe can be tapped at intervals by smaller pipes, according to the amount of power required at various places.

200 YEARS AGO AND NOW

Now, let's see, weren't we just laughing at the foibles of the well-meaning but deluded Puritans of 200 years ago because they persecuted witches? And didn't we shake our heads, too, and wonder what curious quirk there was in the good folk of Salem that the watches were burned at the stake?

Two hundred years ago 'twas done.

A week ago in New York Mrs. Bessie Avorin was charged with being a witch by her neighbors. When she appeared in court complaining against the persecution, women in the courtroom cried: "Witch! Witch! Burn her!"

A month ago a report came out of the West Indies of voodoo rites in which human beings are sacrificed in snake-rites.

A day or so ago Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, author of the Sherlock Holmes stories and a distinguished physician as well, was reported to have gravely presented photographs of fairies for the consideration of photographers of international renown. He believes the fairies are genuine.

Two hundred years, did we say? Let us sweep the cobwebs away. Superstition is not dead. We can hardly have the heart to rob Conan Doyle or other children of belief in fairies. But witches—let us indeed be careful.

CITY SUPPLIES MILK

Jamestown, N. Y., will be the first American city to handle its milk supply as a municipal function. A bond issue of $150,000 is authorized by special vote of the taxpayers to build and equip a milk plant. This plant will receive milk from the farmers, clean it, pasteurize some of it, and distribute to consumers. Better and cheaper milk is anticipated, besides allowing sufficient margin to pay off the bonds and enlarge the plant. Mayor Samuel A. Carlson, a strong municipal ownership advocate, has been urging the milk plant for years. He was instrumental in establishing municipal distribution of electric current at low cost.

USES FOR KANGAROOS

Kangaroo farming is an important industry in Australia. The hides are valuable and the tendons extremely fine—indeed, they are the best material known to surgeons for sewing up wounds, and especially for holding broken bones together, being much finer and tougher than anything which has been used for the purpose.

HENS' CASE BEFORE CONGRESS

PETALUMA, Cal., Jan. 10—The case of the proud hen egg is to be presented to congress.

Time was when the egg was humble and dared not intrude into the halls of the lawmakers. But now that it is classed with automobiles and silk shirts, it has leaped forward with a demand that it also be protected.

So Petaluma egg men will have a representative at Washington during the coming hearings on the tariff bill and he will tell the solons all about eggs with a view to getting the valued fruit of the hen on the protected list.

FOR EDUCATION

FOUR BILLS FOR BENEFIT OF STUDENTS TO BE FILED BY WOMAN LEGISLATOR

Information received by The Evening News from Sacramento is to the effect that four education bills will be introduced in the legislature to carry out the recommendations of the legislative educational committee, according to Assemblyman Elizabeth Hughes of Oroville.

These bills would establish regional junior colleges through the state, convert all state normal schools into junior colleges, establish the county unit plan of school government, and reorganize the state board of education, giving it power to appoint a state school superintendent.

These last two measures will have to be confirmed by a vote of the people before they become effective. They require constitutional changes.

Mrs. Hughes is the only member of the education committee appointed two years ago, in the assembly this term. Assemblyman Iden, who was on the committee, is in the Senate this year. Prendergast of San Francisco died. Mrs. Hughes will probably head the house committee on education.

Proposes Teachers' Colleges

"The program outlined by the committee is a comprehensive one and will probably take years to accomplish," Mrs. Hughes said today in discussing her measures. "We hope to make a start this time, however."

Her plan to convert normal schools into teachers' colleges would not increase the length of time before a certificate to teach is issued, but would add courses to the normal schools and a collegiate standing.

Mrs. Hughes also will sponsor the "twenty-four-hour bill," providing schools where boys can be kept under supervision and given proper school training when the right kind of home influences are lacking. The school would not be a reform school and boys would not be committed by the courts, but by a special commission, according to Mrs. Hughes. She said her bills are designed to keep boys from going to the reform school and prevent formation of criminals, rather than to reform them. Her plan has been endorsed by Fred C. Nellis, head of the Whittier reform school.

CHANGE METHOD

BUSINESS MEN INTERESTED IN DIFFERENT PLAN USED FOR INCOME TAX RETURNS

Business men of Glendale are interested in the announcement that federal income taxpayers are permitted to change the basis of the valuations of their inventories from "cost" to "cost or market, whichever is lower," without obtaining a permit to do so. This information is received from John P. Carter, revenue collector, and comes to him from the treasury department.

In the past business men had to obtain permission first to change the basis of inventory. Announcement of the fact that such change has been made must be inclosed with the return and thereafter subsequent changes must be made only after permission is secured.

A copy of the regulation may be obtained from Room 328, Federal building. Individual and income tax return blanks are not yet ready to be sent out, but probably will be the last of this week.

UNABLE TO PAY TAXES

The mysteries of finance are made more inscrutable to the average mind by the inability of individuals and corporations to pay the fourth-quarter installment of income and profits taxes for the calendar year 1919. A fair assumption it should be that if one had received income or profits in 1919 that might be taxed by Uncle Sam to the amount of $1000, say, the money should be in the taxable's pocket or bank.

In most cases we believe that the present inability to pay is traceable to the necessity of using the tax money in going businesses. It simply could not be spared earlier in the year and business conditions as they exist make it impossible to procure the necessary cash. The condition seems to support the argument that the present system of taxation is detrimental to business.

There are nuts who imagine they have a million dollars, and then there is the one in the east who refused a million because he had not earned it.

The easiest way to find out how many suckers there are in a community is to offer them 10 per cent and upwards for their money each month.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

Whereas, by a Deed of Trust, dated September 9, 1919, recorded September 17, 1919, in book 6950, page 75, of Deeds, Records of Los Angeles County, California, to which record reference is hereby made, S. J. Williams and Blanche Williams, his wife, did grant and convey the property therein and hereinafter described to the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, as trustee, to secure, among other things, the payment of one certain promissory note, in favor of D. McPeak, and other sums of money advanced and interest thereon.

Whereas, said D. McPeak has for a valuable consideration sold and assigned said note and duly endorsed the same to J. C. Pollock; and

Whereas, there has been a default in the payment of the balance of the principal of said note, according to the terms thereof, and of interest due and payable thereon amounting to the sum of Seventy-six and 80-100 ($76.80) Dollars, there being the total sum of Eighteen Hundred Seventy-six and 80-100 ($1876.80) Dollars now due and unpaid; and

Whereas, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2924 of the Civil Code of the State of California, said D. McPeak, the owner and holder of said note and trust deed, on September 8, 1920, caused to be recorded in the office of the County Recorder of said Los Angeles County a notice of such default in the payment of principal and interest and of his election to cause the property described in said trust deed to be sold, in accordance with the provisions thereof, to satisfy said obligation, which notice of default and election to sell was duly recorded in Book 7387, page 52 of Deeds, Records of said Los Angeles County; and

Whereas, said Trust Deed provides that, if there is a default in the payment of any of the sums secured thereby, upon application of the holder of said note, the trustee shall give notice and sell so much of the property as shall be necessary to satisfy the indebtedness secured thereby.

Whereas, said J. C. Pollock, by reason of the default in payments as stated, has requested the Title Guarantee and Trust Company to give notice and to sell said property, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to sell, to pay all the indebtedness secured and expenses incurred necessary to the execution of said trust.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that the Title Guarantee and Trust Company by virtue of the authority vested in it as Trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash in gold coin, on the 29th day of January, 1921, at the hour of 11 o'clock a. m. of said day, at the western front entrance of the Court House in the City of and County of Los Angeles, State of California, all the interest conveyed to it by said Trust Deed, in and to all the following described property, to-wit:

In witness whereof, the Title Guarantee and Trust Company has duly authorized this notice, by the signature of its Vice-President, attested by its Assistant Secretary, who has affixed the Corporate Seal, at Los Angeles, California, this 28th day of December, 1920. (Corporate Seal)

Joe Fortunato, who were engaged in a popular game which, however, did not seem to meet with the approval of their wives, for one by one the wives appeared and persuaded their husbands to depart, one of them supposedly inflicting a black eye, another chasing her husband up the mountain side and another taking her spouse by the coat collar and hauling him away. The only member of the quartette who did not receive this drastic treatment, but who seemed to have luck with him, was John Fanset. A title suggested for this picture was "African Golf, in Detail." It is planned to have a preview of this feature picnic at the next Elks' dance, which will be some time next week

The day was voted a grand success to which good weather, good company and good "eats" all contributed their part. Everyone had such a good time that many expressed the desire of having such affairs more often.

Those in Big Party

The picnic party included: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peterson, owners of Fidelity Ranch; Mr. and Mrs. John Fanset, Mr. and Mrs. S. Berman, Genevieve Berman, Annie Berman, Mr. and Mrs. James Apffel, Lillian Apffel, Evelyn M. Apffel, James A. INTELLIGENCE AND EDUCATION

Some public school systems are substituting "intelligence tests" for the old-fashioned examinations. In Detroit the intelligence test is applied to all new teachers, by order of the school board.

There is a difference between book knowledge and intelligence—and the intelligence test is a rcognition of that difference. An unschooled man may be, and often is, an intelligent as well as educated man because he picks up and absorbs and makes a part of his consciousness every lesson of experience; everything he reads; and everything of value that he hears.

On the other hand, what is called education, or "schooling," is too often merely a piling up of facts in a brain, like furniture in a storage house. Or, frequently, it is only a pouring in of facts, like water through a sieve. That is not education.

The furniture of the intelligent man's mind is arranged. It is not crowded or jumbled. The intelligent man often knows more of what's going on in the world than what's in books. The exceptionally educated man knows both books and life, and book knowledge is valuable to him only in so far as it interprets life.

It is well that public school systems are demanding intelligence in teachers as well as the book learning that can be obtained by cramming. If you look back you will find that the teachers who did you the most good were not those who drilled the most geography and arithmetic into your head, but those others to whom books were but guides in explorations of the wide ranges of life.

SOCIALIST VOTE GRATIFYING

The vote for Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president, approximated 950,000. This is computed from official and unofficial returns. The figures must be discouraging to Socialists and correspondingly gratifying to Americans concerned for orderly processes of government. In 1912 Debs got 901,873. Four years ago the Socialist candidate polled 590,873. Obviously Socialism is not increasing in the United States, for we must credit a considerable percentage of the Debs vote this year to women.

just bubbling over with enthusiasm for the job. So they invited the state convention to Glendale. And we accepted.

"Glendale is a small, residential city, a half hour's car ride from Los Angeles. It stands at the gateway of the favored and fertile San Fernando valley, on the main line of the Southern Pacific, with the blue waters of the Pacific, with their cooling breezes, but twenty miles to the westward. It has churches of the following denominations: Baptist, Catholic, Christian Missionary Alliance, Congregational, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist (three churches), Presbyterian (two churches), and Seventh-day Adventists.

"Oh, yes! We forgot. The Glendale bunch have jumped into the game and are backing up an invitation from the churches and the city dads, with a lot of organizing work, and by the time this reaches your hungry eyes, they will be fuly officered and tackling the job in earnest. But look who's here: General Chairman Howard L. Brown, ex-president of the state Union. Say, doesn't that insure the job being done up in apple pie order? Vice Chairman James Newton, former state Treasurer James Cooper, a former Los Angeles county officer. These are all big timber and busy business men, who are taking the work because they believe it to be the Lord's will, and because they know that a state convention is a wonderful agency to bring young people to Christ.

ABOUT EXPLORING UNIVERSE

It is so easy to keep our noses stuck in the round of daily toil that we need a jolt occasionally like that handed out by Professor Michelson of the University of Chicago, who has just told the American Association for the Advancement of Science something new about the stars.

Dr. Michaelson, a winner of the Nobel prize, and a man of no mean scientific reputation, has measured the alpha star in the constellation of Orion, and has announced some surprising things about the universe. That star is so big that were it as near the earth as the sun it would fill all the visible heavens. It is so far away that its light takes 150 years to reach the earth. Yet puny man has taken its measure!

Such feats of the scientific world, recorded from time to time, get too little attention from a busy world, perhaps. The same association of the country's most advanced minds also heard of the "chemical eye" produced for war purposes. It will be possible for Americans to make a light, invisible to the enemy, but which can be seen by means of certain devices with which our airplanes will be equipped. An invisible light! It sounds like a tale of the Arabian Nights. We have it in our generation. To what wonders may not our children then look forward!

The decline of the beaver in Canada has resulted in the establishment of many beaver farms in that country from which the owners derive immense profits.

TO HELP LANDING PLANES

Of all the inventions conceived during the last decade, in the hope of decreasing the landing speed of airplanes, none has promised more in preliminary tests than a device recently evolved by the United States bureau of standards, says Popular Mechanics magazine. It is nothing more than a simple, variable chamber rib, which is used, instead of the ordinary rib, in the construction of one plane of a biplane, or of the top and bottom planes of a triplane. One peculiarity of construction is that the nose of the flexible rig is fixed to the front spar, while the tailpiece is ragid and slides on the rear spar. Another peculiarity is that the rib structure between the spars is normally symmetrical, or uncambered, but is deformed by nonsymmetrical air pressure until it becomes a rib of most pronounced camber.

If this country actually gets back to Puritan methods a lot of babbling men and scolding women may get what is coming to them.

One of the self-appointed tasks of some persons is to keep a rich relative from marrying the second time.

One of the qualifications of a successful dry agent is to be able to detect the odor of sour mash.

LIST OF VOLUMES RELEASED AT GLENDALE'S LIBRARY PROVES VARIED ONE

The following new books were released at the Glendale library the past week:

"Danish Life in Town and Country," by J. Brochner.

"Idling in Italy," by Joseph Collins. Dr. Collins has written brilliantly of Italy, with particular attention to bringing out those of her aspects which should be most interesting to Americans.

"The Paternity of Abraham Lincoln," by William E. Barton.

"Pollyanna Grows Up," by Eleanor H. Porter. The second glad book.

"Intimate Pages of Mexican History," by Edith O'Shaughnessy. Fascinating reading. It is intimate, vivid and true. Sooner or later the Mexican problem must be faced. To understand Mexico is the only hope. This book does much to make this possible.

Journey Into Closed Land

"With the Tibetans in Tent and Temple," by Dr. S. C. Rijnhart. The narrative of the events of a journey into the closed land.

"The Story History of France," by John Bonner. A history of a new and fascinating type. Mr. Bonner does not discard the dry bones of dates, names and places; instead, he clothes them with the glowing garments of romance and drama. Illustrated by several hundred line cuts and wood engravings.

WHY CHRISTIAN?

QUESTION IS USED ON SUNDAY MORNING FOR SUBJECT BY REV. W. E. EDMONDS

At the Sunday morning service at the Presbyterian church the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds. used no other text than the simple words, "Why Be a Christian," Here is a resume of his remarks:

This is one of the great, over-towering matters of the day. What is to be answered to it here is simple and exact, and founded on God's eternal truth, which cannot pass away even when heaven and earth have passed. Why be a Christian? A vote would be unanimous that it is the right thing. We pride ourselves on doing the right thing in our homes and business. This question is as to your immortal soul. Turn the answer around: Because it is wrong not to be a Christian. It puts one in bad company; there will be no Christians in hell; nor will there be any sinners in heaven.

Why be a Christian? Because you think. You cannot have complete thinking and leave Christ out of it. Everything about us has a cause; you cannot account for the Christian life apart from Christ as the cause. If any man will sit down and think it out he will come back to Jesus Christ.

Why be a Christian? Because God has endowed you with love. Oh, the love of God to man! If you have any sense of appreciation you will love Him in return and manifest it in a genuine dedication of your life to Him. Your response to His infinite love makes you a Christian.

Wills All Should Believe

Why be a Christian? Because you choose. You know your own will in choosing what Christ wills. He wills that all men should believe on Him and be saved. Through choice of His will the best will come to you in time and eternity. If life and death are set before you and you choose death, what shall be said of your power of choice? Choose you this day whom you will serve.

Why be a Christian? Because you ought to. Conscience prompts it. You owe Christ what you owe no one else; it is an honest debt; pay it. You cannot live life at its best, you cannot be what God meant you to be, if you don't. All of good you receive is a free, unmerited gift; then not to be a Christian makes your life a lop-sided one, always receiving and never giving back.

Why be a Christian? Because you can. God has made the way so plain. "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Many things we cannot be, but we can be a Christian. When you are offered a gift you can take it. The great privilege of becoming a son of God is open to you, the possibility and opportunity of bearing Christ's name.

Must Be Born Again

Why be a Christian? Because you must be. Christ alone meets the longing of the heart. If you are to be saved at all it must be His way; there are no two ways. You stand naked and undone before God without Christ, apart from Him you are nothing. You must be born again; there is salvation in none other.

This is the question of life,—really a question of life and death: Are you lost or saved? Are you under condemnation, or free from condemnation? Ask yourself honestly and earnestly, Why not a Christian? Determine now by God's grace that whatever stands in the way shall be put out. Oh, do not go out without your faith anchored. "I will do it tomorrow." No, you won't; no one ever did it tomorrow. Christ can never be nearer than today. Give yourself wholly to Him for time and for eternity.

OLDEST ARMY UNIT FOUND

The discovery that the Fourth company, United States coast artillery, stationed at Fort Mills, Philippine Islands, is the oldest organization in the army, having been organized by Alexander Hamilton for service in the revolutionary war, will fill the members of the company, from the newest private to the commanding officer, with pride. Age in individual human beings has its drawbacks, but in organizations it is a mark of honor. The farther back a corporation or a society was organized, the better are its members pleased; for a long career implies good service, as the probabilities are that if the organization were not meritorious it would have perished.

The pride that the men of the Fourth company will take in its history will make them want to serve it a little more devotedly than if it had no record. Acquaintance with its history will inspire them with esprit de corps, the quality above all others that makes for good teamwork.

The war department is encouraging the army units to inquire into their history and to indicate on the regimental colors the battles and the campaigns in which they have participated. The purpose is to develop this important sense of tradition.

But it is not the army alone that needs this spirit. It will be found useful in every sort of organization; commercial establishments need it as much as any.

Experiments in the Soviet hospitals of Russia have produced an anesthetic which can be used with practically no danger and the patient awakes from sleep without nausea or ill effects.

BICYCLE THAT FLIES

Pedestrians on the Bois de Boulogne, Paris, were startled out of their usual placidity recently by a bicycle with an airplane attachment built to fly. This machine made its first successful flight while the astonished Parisians looked on. This, the latest development in the motor industry, will no doubt soon be a popular vehicle. It is called by the French, the Aviette. A single curved plane is used, and a rounded body, in imitation of the larger airplane bodies. Two propellors are employed, and various smaller controlling wings and a tail give the rider control of the machine while in the air. It has been proved that the machines can really be built to fly, and as they can be built cheaply and learned easily, there is no reason why numbers of them should not soon be available.

SHOW POLITENESS ON TRAINS

Samuel Rea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, has sent a leaflet to employes of the company who are engaged in dealing directly with the public and to others who hold passes over the various lines of the system, and the text of the leaflet is politeness.

It should not be understood that the matter of politeness toward patrons of the Pennsylvania and other railroad lines is an innovation, for it is not, but President Rea took the opportunity to remind all employes of their common sense obligation to the public.

"Our patrons on all occasions should be treated as our guests," President Rea said. "Whenever any question arises, we should sacrifice our own individual comfort for theirs. Passholders should give up their seats to paying patrons when a seat is crowded."

The obligation of politeness does not rest upon the employes of the railroads alone. The passenger owes something to his self-respect, if not to the company, and should comport himself in a manner that will invoke the most generous service from the railroad employes.

Some conductors and assistants are obliging and cheerful, even under considerable provocation, but nearly every traveler knows of some who need to take to heart the injunction of President Rea. There is often need of patience on both sides, especially when cars are crowded and trains are running late.

FALL IN LOVE VIA PICTURES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10—All the way from Czecho-Slovakia to become the bride of Martin Knapp, of Arcata, Humboldt county, Maria Strapec has reached California.

According to the story told to an interpreter by the girl, she never has seen her intended husband. The courtship was entirely by mail and each fell in love with the other's picture. Finally, she said, Knapp sent her the money with which she made the long trip to California to become a "picture bride."

It is said that women in this country spent $75,000,000 for cosmetics in 1919, but they covered more surface than in 1918.

COURTSHIP THOUGHT WAVES

CHICAGO—A Northwestern co-ed who refuses to reveal her name has appealed to newspapers here to help her find her affinity, "M. J."

"M. J." met her in a movie. The co-ed's French heel caught on a nail and was ripped off and "M. J.," sitting behind her offered to take the shoe out to be fixed while she watched the show. Before the picture was ended he returned with the shoe and disappeared.

Miss Hazel Allbaugh, another co-ed, says the romantic co-ed has communicated with her affinity by thought waves.

"She says the cosmic courtship reached the stage where he proposed and she accepted," said Miss Allbaugh, ,'but she doesn't know where to find him and they can't give each other their names and addresses."

The initials "M. J." were obtained from a fortune teller, Miss Allbaugh said.
